‘State’ Exam Review Courses

Presented by Blair C. Wong, ABOM, NCLC, M. Ed.

Enhance Your Opportunity For MA State Exam Success

A two hour reviews for each segment – ABO, NCLE, Practical

You have knowledge of opticianry and optics through employment as an apprentice, eye care technician or assistant and are ready to take one of your three MA State Licensing Exams (first the ABO, second the NCLE exam and third the MA State Practical). You have learned and studied for the big day and are wondering, “just how ready am I”? By enrolling in these “Practice Exam Review Courses” we help you to find out the answer.

In both the ABO prep and NCLE prep program you will:

Learn test taking technique:

- How to avoid distraction and increase your level of concentration
- How to properly pace yourself
- Develop the proper and positive frame of mind

Test your level of preparedness by taking a 40 question practice exam:

- Self correct and learn from answers, review and explanations
- Discover possible topic areas for further study
- Your questions will be resolved and clarified
- Find out if you are as ready for these exams as you think you are

Increase your level of understanding and comprehension of optical concepts

- Included are a series of brief but formal discussions related to areas of needed improvement

AND Introducing the PRACTICAL EXAM review

Hands on review using sample eyeglasses and a lensometer

These courses are intended for candidates who feel that they are almost ready to take their certification exams or those who would like a preview of what the exams and experience may be like. The condensed format of the course is designed to examine and review familiar topics. This compact course is not intended as an entry level or comprehensive review program.

Course completion certificates will be presented to all attendees at the end of each session.

Blair Wong is an ABO Master in Ophthalmic Optics, National Contact Lens Certified and an Assistant Professor at the New England College of Optometry. Blair is a MA licensed optician with more than 20 years experience and has trained and educated eye care professionals throughout his entire career.
